

Board of Directors

General Henry L. Taylor, U.S.A.F. (Ret.)

VP, Global Bus. Dev., Charleston Regional Development Alliance

A retired Brigadier General, General Taylor has more than thirty years managing teams and strategic initiatives in both the public and private sectors. He is an accomplished professional in global aerospace logistics and has deep experience in leadership and organizational development.

As Vice President for the Charleston South Carolina Regional Development Alliance, General Taylor leads the CRDA's comprehensive, strategic global business development focused efforts.

General Taylor served for thirty years with the U.S. Air Force after four years with the U.S. Navy, where he maintained management roles of increasing responsibility across the logistics spectrum. He was also a key advisor to the Chairman of the Pentagon's Joint Chiefs of Staff and retired from active duty in 2005 as Vice Director for Logistics, J-4 on the Joint Staff at the Pentagon. Since leaving active service, General Taylor has worked in an advisory role at Lockheed Martin collaborating on the management of high-level projects for the South Carolina Department of Commerce.

General Taylor holds a B.A. degree in psychology from Coe College, an M.A. degree in human relations from the University of Oklahoma, and an M.S. degree in national security strategy from the National Defense University.

Leadership.
Innovation.
Excellence.

We have an aggressive goal to become the best at what we do!